DHI HAIR TRANSPLANT

What is the DHI method?

DHI – Direct hair implantation – a method of direct seamless hair transplantation. Hair transplantation is carried out using the Choi Pen tool, with a diameter of 0.7 – 0.9 mm (the optimal diameter for minimal trauma to the transplantation area). This method reduces the time spent by the transplants outside the body, which ensures a solid and healthy engraftment.

How is DHI hair transplant performed?

The grafts (elements of the hair tissue of the head with hair follicles, 1 graft includes 1 to 4 follicles) are taken from donor areas (lateral and occipital zones). The extracted grafts are first placed with a special liquid of a certain temperature, which ensures their good engraftment after transplantation. Then, using the same tool, the hair follicle is implanted in the receiving area, according to the direction of hair growth, at an angle of 40-45 degrees, to a certain depth. Hair implantation is performed under local anesthesia, without preliminary incisions and punctures of the skin.

How long does the healing process after a hair transplant take?

Micro-wounds in the withdrawal zone and in the setting zone resemble punctures from a medical injection, which heal without a trace in 3-5 days. During the first 6 months, the transplanted hair falls out several times and grows again. The patient will be able to see the final result approximately 7-8 months after transplantation. After the procedure itself, the patient can return to work the next day, as this procedure is minimally traumatic and does not require dressing.
